This trip is designed to bring awareness about the importance of HBCUs (Historically Black Colleges & Universities) in our society. While this experience is educationally based, there are some extra-curricular experiences intertwined (Atlanta Aquarium, Coca-Cola Experience & the MLK Memorial). Lodgings where a swimming pool is on-site, a chaperone be on duty to monitor behaviors.

As safety is important, travelers under 16 (without a guardian) will not be able to leave their room after 9:00PM. All travelers should be in their room-- with lights-- out by 11:00PM (as activities will begin with breakfast at 7AM and departures will occur at 8AM). Since tours will involve plenty of walking, travelers are encouraged to wear comfortable shoes during this time.

The behavior of our young travelers as it relates to field trips is of critical importance. Students are always expected to be on their best behavior. Regrettably, inappropriate behavior can result in their inability to participate in future activities, including in extreme cases being returned home separately at the parent's expense.
